

Relief for Bowel Trouble

Here is a laxative—not a purgative—but a pleasant, easy-to-take tablet that tastes just like candy, that children like, that is ideal for invalids and aged persons. We guarantee it not to cost you a penny if it does not satisfy you. Don't doubt or hesitate—make us prove it.

Consult Your Doctor

We believe your doctor will tell you that about 95 per cent of all human life are indirectly caused by undecayed and constipated bowels. You know the first question the doctor asks when you consult him is, "Are your bowels regular?"

When your bowels are not naturally exercised such as they would be if you took a good brisk walk of six or seven miles a day out in the open, they require artificial exercise and a corrective tonic that will soothe and strengthen while regulating the bowels to natural action.

Free If It Fails

We have so much faith in Rexall Orderlies as the safest, most dependable, easiest-to-take, quietest acting and most thoroughly good remedy for bowel trouble, that we offer them with our positive guarantee that if they do not satisfy for any reason whatever, we will hand back the money you paid for them.

Don't doubt or hesitate. Make us prove our claims. Come and get a box of Rexall Orderlies today.

CAUTION: Please bear in mind that Rexall Orderlies are not sold by all druggists. You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at The Rexall Stores.

NORMAL SCHOOL GIRLS MAKE WARM PROTEST TO THE SENATE

Following up the resolution which was presented in the legislature Saturday by the teachers of the city denouncing the report of the joint committee of the legislature on school conditions in the territory, the students of the Normal School are voicing their protest against the report through the medium of personal letters to Hon. A. Knudsen, president of the senate.

The following letter, written by Edith D. Keola, a member of the senior class, has been sent to President Knudsen:

Excitement prevails within the four walls of the T. N. S. and justly so, for the closing of the school will mark a crisis in the career of many of its inmates. There is, perhaps, no one who realizes the value of the training afforded by the Normal School more than I.

I entered the Normal School in September, 1912, fully convinced of my powers and abilities. But, alas, I had not been in school a week when I felt like beginning school all over again. I discovered my utter deficiency in the line I had chosen for my life work. But, with modesty, I had graduated from Punahou with honors; and here I was feeling as one standing on the deck of a gradually sinking ship. Not that the subject matter was difficult or new. But rather that I did not know how to plan my work to the best advantage. I had not acquired that most valuable quality—self-control. In a few months, however, these deficiencies were remedied.

How? you may ask.

By actual experience. By teaching in the grades under the excellent supervision of model training teachers. Seneca has said, "We learn by teaching." How true this is! I have acquired more practical knowledge in the few months I have been in the Normal School than in the three years in Punahou. I count myself fortunate indeed in having received such excellent training.

You may say that the present course of study followed out in the Normal School does give one sufficient academic knowledge. But after all, for teachers' training for primary work, is text-book knowledge all that is required? Some of our best cadets are students who are not by any means the brightest of the class.

Again some say that we are wasting time by teaching nature study and drawing. Shall we of the 20th century go back to the system used in the past centuries and teach merely the three R's. Our present system is strictly in accordance with that used in the United States. It does not in the least undermine the importance of the three R's but it also adds the knowledge and appreciation of nature.

I am not alone in my opinions. I voice the sentiment of each and every normal cadet. Therefore, we shall greatly regret should the school which has given us such excellent training and has made us efficient teachers be discontinued. I entreat a higher power to guide you to decide for the maintenance of our school.

Another, written by Miss Dorothy Mitchell also a member of the senior class, reads as follows:

I, the undersigned, am a senior in the Territorial Normal and Training School, and hereby express great interest in the subject now under discussion in the legislature of Hawaii, in regard to the question of whether or not the Territorial Normal and Training School should be discontinued in the near future.

I entered the eighth grade in the T. N. T. S. and for four years I have studied under the respective teachers of the said school, and have prepared myself for my vocation. None but myself can fully realize how much the school has done for me in the four years past.

I feel that the training I have received under the close supervision of the training teachers has enabled me to understand my subject matter more clearly and to become more familiar with it than I would by a mere study of the same from text books. Moreover, teaching in the various grades has taught me self-control, which is very important to any person who has adopted school teaching as a vocation.

Some may say that the acquirement of subject matter is all a teacher needs, but I say that it is not. And if anyone believes that the Normal School is not giving the students enough text book knowledge, let me say that education is a training, whereby one is enabled to meet the problems of daily life and not a mere acquirement of knowledge from text books.

Lastly, I feel that the T. N. T. S. has given me just as important a training for my vocation as any high school. I wish to say that I shall certainly regret the changing of the present system of the T. N. T. S. and hereby make an earnest request that the present system be retained and that the school remain as it is and where it is.

RAPID TRANSIT DEFENDANT IN DAMAGE SUIT

Alleging that he was ejected from a street car run and operated by the Honolulu Rapid Transit Company on the thirteenth day of December, 1911, that a conductor in the employ of the company pushed him in the face with his open hand, and that he was humiliated and chagrined and that his feelings were outraged and wounded, Wong How, a Chinese carpenter, testified in his own behalf in the circuit court this morning. He told of the way in which he transferred from a Punahou to a Liliha car and alleged that while on the latter line the conductor refused to receive his transfer ticket and shoved him from the car so that he rolled in the mud of the street. How admitted then that he characterized the conductor with epithets of considerable length, and alleged that the conductor thereupon chased him about a hundred feet. How is suing for $500.

Attorney John W. Cathcart, who, in conjunction with A. L. Castle, has taken up the case of the defendants, entered a general denial to the allegations made by How. When court closed this morning the defense had not yet opened its case.

John C. Anderson, A. P. Knight and D. K. Hoapili were called to testify for the prosecution. All testified as to the facts of the incident.

The following jury was chosen to try the case: Harry B. Myhre, Thomas C. Dawkins, John A. Radway, E. L. Hutchinson, Frank E. Blake, Gustav C. Beckert, Wm. W. Kirkland, Morris Rosenblatt, Oliver H. Walker, Henry A. Giles, C. M. V. Forster; Herbert M. Dowsett.

PAXSON RAISES QUESTION OF VERACITY; HERE'S THE ANSWER

Representative Paxson has raised the question of veracity with the Star-Bulletin and this paper herewith answers that question.

The Star-Bulletin on Saturday afternoon published the story of what Mr. Paxson said when a number of school-teachers visited the legislature Saturday morning to present their united protest against the report of the special committee of which Paxson was chairman.

C. W. Baldwin, principal of Kaahumanu school, heard what Mr. Paxson said and here is what Mr. Baldwin told the Star-Bulletin were the words of the representative:

"What the hell does all this mean! What does all this damned crowd want? Does every fool on earth think they can run this government?"

Representative Paxson was asked by W. R. Farrington, of the Star-Bulletin, what he had said. Here is what Paxson asserted were his words:

"Have the employees the right to come to dictate to the legislature?"

The Star-Bulletin published what Paxson had been overheard saying and what Paxson asserted he had said. Mr. Paxson lodged a protest with this paper on Saturday afternoon, declaring that he had talked to Mr. Baldwin over the telephone and that Mr. Baldwin had denied making the statement credited to him in the paper that afternoon.

In yesterday morning's Advertiser Mr. Paxson was quoted as saying: "Not only did I not say what is quoted as my words in the afternoon paper regarding the visit of the school teachers to the legislature, but I have the word of Charles Baldwin that he neither wrote nor said what is given in the same paper on the subject over his signature. What kind of a deal is that paper trying to give me, anyhow?"

This morning the editor of the Star-Bulletin wrote to Principal Baldwin setting forth the above facts and asked Mr. Baldwin to make a statement to this paper as to just what he heard Mr. Paxson say. In reply Mr. Baldwin made the written statement given below:

April 28, 1913.

Riley H. Allen, Esq.,
Editor Star-Bulletin,

Dear Sir: Yours of this date received. I heard Representative Paxson say in substance what was in the Star-Bulletin Saturday, April 26th. He showed me before I had seen the paper, saying there was an article with my signature, which I denied. Mr. Paxson was very much excited at the time of the occurrence. Sincerely yours,
CHAS. W. BALDWIN.

It appears plainly that Mr. Baldwin understood Paxson to say there was something written by Mr. Baldwin in this paper Saturday afternoon, which, of course, there was not. His spoken statement was published and as shown above, he had been correctly quoted by the Star-Bulletin.

Representative Paxson has raised the issue of veracity with the Star-Bulletin and is attempting to show that this paper is treating him unfairly in its criticism of the school report.

His complaints are fully answered in the light of the above.

It does not bother me much, although I would like to very much.

I want to become a nurse because nursing is one of the nicest kinds of work there is for a girl. But more than this, I think a person can be so helpful to those who are in pain and helpless. Here is another very good reason which is very important, too, and it is that a nurse is always clean and neat and usually strict. Nurses are, or rather have to be, very systematic, and this agrees with me just fine.

I am very much interested in hygiene studies. I love to read and think of microbes, their works, diseases, doctors, hospitals, accidents, emergencies, medicines and everything on this line of work and study. I try to get all the books I can on germs and their ways. I read and study the books I get nearly every night after my school studies are done. Of the studies that we have in school I like physiology the next best to grammar.

I am now getting my first lessons towards this goal of mine. We have a baby at home and I tend to most of his food. I am very careful about his bottles, nipples, funnel, and heating pans. His mother is very careful and particular about his things. I have done a good deal of cooking for babies and sick children and know what to give them and what not to. I know that one of the keys towards this goal, if I want success, is cleanliness.

Some people think I want to be a nurse to get lots of money, but they are mistaken. I am going to be a nurse because I like the work. I like to think of Florence Nightingale, who was a very fine character. I am not going to be famed like she has been, but I am going to work as willingly and as generously.

I expect to get my training at the Kaulaekani Children's Hospital or in some hospital in Oakland. I want to nurse children, as I like them better than grown ups. I would be more than glad to nurse any of my schoolmates if every they get sick.

After I leave the hospital, that is, after I graduate and am not needed there any longer, I expect to become a settlement nurse. I want to look after the sick, dirty children who live in dark, dirty and damp tenement houses.

I am not going home to Japan to stay for good. I think that I ought to stay here and help the Japanese people. The Japanese people here are not so clean as the outside world think they are. I'd stop the bathing all in one water and I'd teach them how to have ventilation during the night and to use sheets instead of blankets and the right feeding of children.

I hope to succeed and be helpful all my life.
